MERCHANTS AND MANUFACTURERS EXPOSITION

Held in Owensboro April 21-22-23. To Include Auto Show, Farm Exhibition, Etc.

Interest in the Owensboro Merchants' and Manufacturers' Exposition is extending into counties adjacent to Owensboro. As it has become known that the show is to be an automobile show, an industrial exposition and a sort of carnival all in one, the appeal to the people of a wide territory has grown and evidences of a large attendance from Ohio, McLean, Hancock Breckinridge and Muhlenberg counties is said to be in prospect.

Exhibits of approximately 100 manufacturers, auto dealers, and merchants will be gathered under one roof. Some of the displays will be novel and show the operations in the manufacture of some of the products for which Owensboro is known all over the country. Elaborate decorations are being used to transform the large Daviess County Loose Leaf Warehouse into an indoor carnival home. Decorations costing $1,000 are being used.

A Good Time For All
The large Evansville Municipal band will give concerts, morning, afternoon and night. In the words of the average society editor, "a good time will be had by all."

A late issue of the Owensboro Inquirer says:

"That the Owensboro Merchants' and Manufacturers' Exposition may be as bright as day at nights, the appointment of D. T. Wadsworth, manager of the Lambert-Grisham company's electrical department, as director of electrical display has been announced by the executive committee. The exposition is to be open day and night for three days, April 21-22-23, with as much provision being made for attracting crowds at night as during the daylight hours."

"Announcement of a contract with the Evansville municipal band to furnish music for the exposition, has been made by Walter Samuels, chairman of the entertainment committee. The band will arrive on the morning of the 21, and will remain for the full three days of the exposition."

"Word is coming from over the Green River district that the plans for the Owensboro show are arousing considerable interest and that large crowds will visit Owensboro during exposition week."

SENIORS IN ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING AT U. OF K. VISIT CHICAGO.

Mr. Forrest Dryden Weatherholt of the University of Kentucky, Lexington, was here Monday visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Weatherholt, who is a member of the Senior class '21 Electrical Engineering, was enroute from Chicago, where he with members of his class went on their annual investigation tour of manufacturing plants in that city.

Mr. Weatherholt is to be graduated from the University on June 15.

LESLIE FILES PETITION IN BANKRUPTCY

In Owensboro Federal Court. Assets $975; Debts $675.

Crave Leslie, a farmer of Mook, Breckinridge county, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy in the federal court clerk's office at Owensboro on Monday.

It is authentically stated that Leslie's assets total $975, of which $700 is real estate, $200 livestock, and $75 household goods. His debts total $675 of which $400 are secured claims and $275 unsecured claims. The principal claims against him are held in Breckinridge county, the larger holder being Wade Pile, who has a $400 mortgage on his farm; Pete Sheeran, of Kirk, who has a judgement for $100; and V. B. Goodwin, of West View, who has a judgement for $180. The petitioner owns 66 acres of land near Rough Creek.

LOCAL TEACHERS ATTEND K. E. A.

Public School Closed For This Week; Largest Session of K. E. A. Ever Held.

The Cloverport Public school closed Monday afternoon for the remainder of this week in order to give the members of the faculty the opportunity to attend the Kentucky Educational Association, which meets in Louisville, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Teachers from Cloverport who are attending the Association are, Supt. R. F. Peters, Mrs. J. R. Randolph, Miss Adele Frymire, Miss Virginia Wilson, Miss Rennie Hendrick, Miss Lillian May and Miss Viola Beatty.

The meeting of the K. E. A. this year is the largest one in the history of the Association. Between 5,000 and 6,000 teachers are expected to attend. Mr. George Colvin, State Superintendent of Schools, opened the first session on Tuesday evening.

In addition to the K. E. A. meeting, the State Parent-Teacher's Association and the Kentucky Music Teachers Association will hold their annual meetings in Louisville this week.

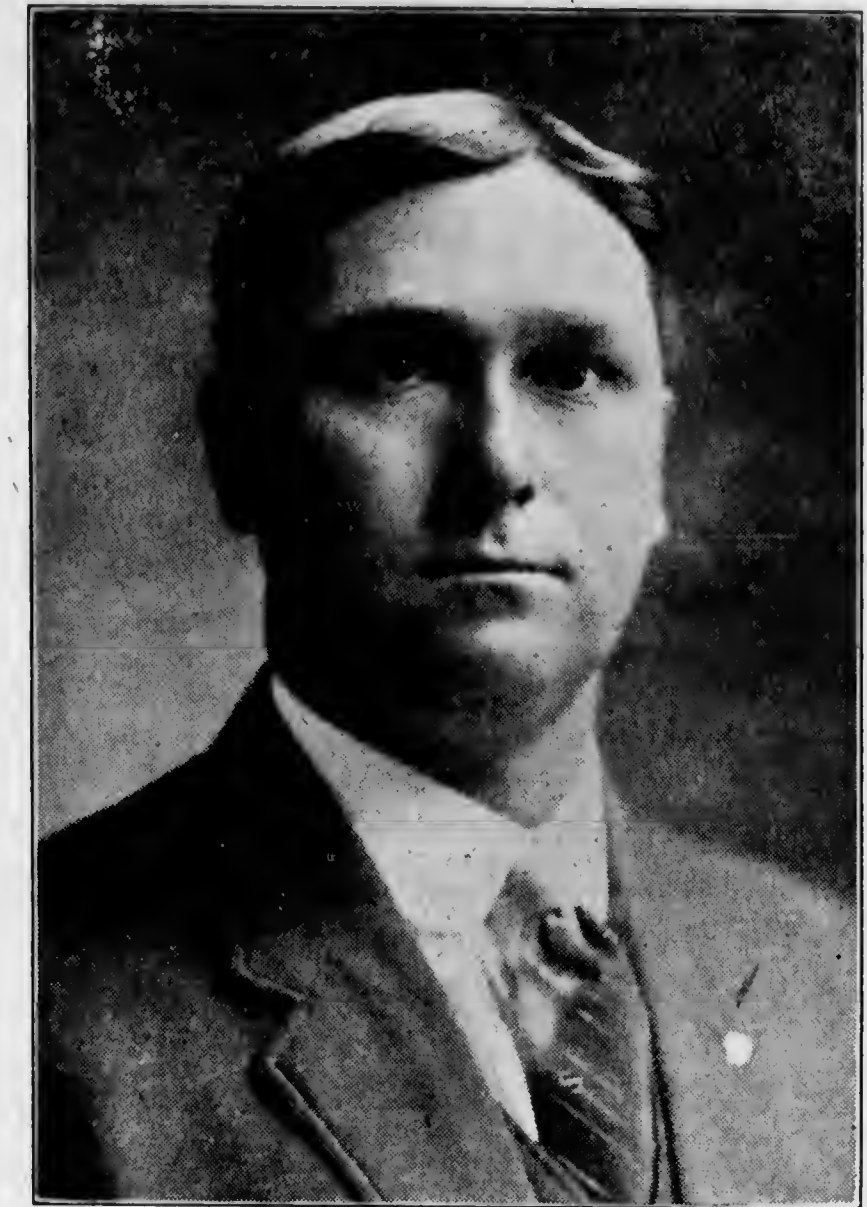

MR. AND MRS. DeHAVEN LEGALLY ADOPT DAUGHTER.

Little Miss Mary Catherine Quisenberry, who was born and reared in Dundee, Ky., has become the legally adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wickliffe DeHaven, of Fordsville and Cloverport, and has changed her surname to DeHaven. Miss DeHaven who is nearing her sixth birthday, is a very handsome and lovable little girl. She has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. DeHaven for about a year, but was not legally adopted until last week.

RECALL
For the sake of harmony I recall my announcement as a candidate for nomination for Representative in this district.

Thanking my friends for every kindness, I am, Yours respectfully, J. A. QUIGGINS.

Candidate for Nomination as Sheriff in Breckinridge County

TO THE REPUBLICANS OF BRECKINRIDGE COUNTY:

Having informally announced myself as a candidate for the Republican Nomination for Sheriff of Breckinridge County a few weeks ago, I wish now to state that I am a candidate for said office subject to the action of the Republican Party at the Primary Election to be held in the month of August 1921. It will be remembered that I was a candidate for the Nomination four years ago, but for the sake of party harmony, I withdrew and went on the ticket as a deputy. I now feel that I am entitled to the Nomination at the hands of the party.

Having served as Deputy Sheriff a little less than eight years, I have a desire to serve the people of this county in the capacity of high Sheriff. I feel that I am competent to care for the duties of the office. I have tried to attend to the duties of the office in an efficient manner; I have also tried to be fair and accommodating to all the people with whom I have done business while acting as Deputy Sheriff. Many times I have been forced to make collections when it was not at all pleasant to me, but I had to perform my duty. I have made my settlements each year when called upon by the Fiscal Court and State and accounted for all the tax money charged to my districts.

As to my fidelity to the Republican party, you will not question because that has been demonstrated. I have spent all my life on the farm, which profession I have followed in addition to acting as Deputy Sheriff. I promise the people of Breckinridge County that if nominated and elected to the office of Sheriff that I will discharge the duties of the office to the best of my ability and will have associated with me a bunch of efficient deputies.

Hoping that you will favor me with your support and thanking you, I am, Very respectfully, W. C. PATE, Apr. 16, 1921, Cloverport, Ky.

W. V. PERKINS TO BE BURIED HERE

Cloverport Man Succumbed in Dayton. Remains Will Be Interred Thursday.

Mr. William V. Perkins, who until five years ago, was a resident of Cloverport for many years, succumbed at his home in Dayton, Ohio, on Saturday evening at 12 o'clock. His remains accompanied by his widow and children, arrived here Tuesday evening and were taken to the home of Mrs. Robert Wilson, a daughter of the deceased.

The funeral will be held Thursday afternoon at the Baptist church following the arrival of Mr. Orville Perkins, a son, who lives in Colorado. The interment will be in the Cloverport cemetery. Rev. E. C. Nall will officiate.

Mr. Perkins had been in failing health for some time. About a year ago he was stricken blind due to his ill health. His condition became worse last Tuesday and the end was momentarily expected. It was his last wish to be brought to his former home and buried.

Mr. Perkins was 61 years old. He was born and reared near Hardinsburg, and the son of the late Jerry Perkins. He was a carpenter by trade. Mr. Perkins was a deacon in the Cloverport Baptist church. He lived a faithful christian life, and was held in high esteem during his residence in this city. He was the father of eight children, all of whom survive with the widow, three sisters and three brothers the children are: Miss Alma Perkins, of Dayton; Orville Perkins, of Colorado; Mrs. Robert Wilson, of Cloverport; Mrs. Robert Akins, Halbert, Willie, Lillian and Mary Perkins.

TO HALT WORK ON GOV'T DAM NO. 45

Lack of Funds Will Necessitate Curtailing of Work at Addison.

In place of putting on a full force of workers May 1, for the construction of Government Dam No. 45 at Addison, Ky., ten miles north of Cloverport, there will be a curtailing of work owing to lack of funds appropriated by Congress for work on the Ohio River.

This announcement was made Saturday morning through the Louisville Courier-Journal by Lieut. Col. G. R. Lukesh, in charge of the Louisville District, United States Engineers, who returned Friday from a conference with Brig. Gen. Lansing Beach, Chief of Engineers at Cincinnati.

Congress appropriated altogether $2,500,000 to build locks and dams on the Ohio river, and $230,000 of that amount was allotted to the Louisville district. At the conference in Cincinnati it was arranged which dams should be completed with the present funds. In the Louisville district the $230,000 will be used in constructing Dam No. 44 at Leavensworth, Ind.

Work was started on Dam 45 at Addison last fall and less than two per cent has been constructed. Work on Dam 47 at Newberg, Ind., was to have been started this spring but the appropriation was not sufficient to allow the work to be finished on Dam 45, or even started on Dam 47.

of Dayton. The sisters are Misses Mina and Mary Perkins, of Cloverport; Mrs. A. B. Simpson, of Louisville; brothers, James, George and R. O. Perkins.

Previous to the banquet seven members were received into the lodge four taking the 3rd degree, one taking the 2nd, and one took the 1st degree. Bro. J. T. Adams, superintendent of the Widows' and Orphans' Home, and Dave Jackson, Grand Secretary were the special guests. Twelve chapter lodges were represented.

MRS. PILE, WITH SEVERAL KY. GIRLS, ARE HAPPILY SITUATED AT CAPITOL.

"Mrs. Joseph Pile, Hardinsburg, occupies, with twenty girls, an attractive apartment at the Hotel Gordon. The Kentucky girls in this 'no man's land,' as the spacious territory is facetiously dubbed, are Miss Girdler, of Somerset, Miss Smith, of Bowling Green; the Misses Landers, Pembroke; Miss Mabel Howard, Glen Dean. On the same floor Representative Kincheloe and family had an attractive apartment in the Hotel Gordon before moving to California street." Clipped from Daisy Fitzhugh Ains' notes from Washington, D. C., published in Sunday's Courier-Journal.

COUNTY FARM BUREAU ADOPTS SEVERAL NEW PLANS

Will Have Pig Club Organized Push Dairy Business; Publish a Monthly Bulletin.

Hardinsburg, Ky., April 18. (Special)—The Directors of the Breckinridge County Farm Bureau held a most important meeting at their office last Saturday.

Those present were: Jack Jolly, president; J. R. Eskridge, secretary and treasurer; G. N. Lyddan, Irvington; J. E. Hart, McDaniels; J. M. Howard, Glen Dean; Orrin Hardin, Cloverport; Earl Wright, Kingswood and former president Vic Pile, of Harned.

The Bureau decided to purchase a mimeograph or duplicating machine and to publish a bulletin twice a month to be sent to each member. This work will be in charge of County Agent Jos. W. Harth.

Organize a Pig Club.

Mr. James McCoy, Jr., of Harned was employed to take charge of Club Work in the county and will begin work the first of May. He will begin the organization of a pure bred Pig Club at once. The McCoy boys have had astonishing success in breeding pure bred big bone Poland Chinas.

The Bureau also decided to get behind the dairy business in the county and push it for all it is worth; believing that dairying will bring money to the farmers and upbuild their soil.

In this connection it is needless to say that success in this business is arrived at only in keeping high producing cows. To this end the County Agent was instructed to put himself at the service of those interested to test their cows for butter fat or instruct them in the use of the Babcock tester.

The Bureau will also encourage the movement to introduce and keep pure bred sires in the county. There is no use trying to argue the proposition that "blood will tell."

A Meeting on May 9

A meeting of prominent citizens and Bureau members will be held at Hardinsburg on the second Monday in May to put in motion a membership drive in the county. The membership has had a steady growth since the organization of the Bureau.

The Bureau hears that there is some criticism being made against it; but this criticism is of itself a recommendation of and for the Bureau as it comes from middle men who have been handling commodities that the Bureau is now buying at cost.

It certainly is a narrow-minded citizen who can object under prevailing conditions to the farmer trying to save some money in this respect. Everyone in the county is dependent in a large measure for success, upon the prosperity of the farmers.

It might be well in this connection to add also, that the Bureau absolutely knows no political or religious differences, its sole object being to promote the best interests of Breckinridge county. As to its paid employees, two are Republicans and one a Democrat. As to religious views no questions are asked, and members and sympathizers are welcome even though they are not religiously inclined at all.

The Bureau office will be open from 8 o'clock in the morning until five in the afternoon with an hour for lunch at noon.

It is at the service of all. Call in person or by telephone.

In thinking of our Breckinridge county people living away from here, I wish to speak of one worthily reared at this place, who graduated here in school then went to Hardinsburg a while, then to "Castle Heights" in Tennessee. He is now at Fort Worth, Texas. He has a position with Armour & Co., the same firm Harry Moorman is with, Harry having been reared in the same home. This noble young man is Lewis O. Moorman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Moorman, of Hardinsburg, Ky. I read a letter written to his father which was very pleasing to me. He told of his work in Sunday school etc., and the great church there. He is studying the Spanish language to be prepared to take charge of work in South America when Armour establishes a business there, which may be soon. He makes great sacrifice of not making a visit back here for he must hold his work, but insists that his father visit him as his mother went to see him last year. He is quite young and bids fair to be a splendid business man.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowmer Smith, of Lodi, are visiting relatives here. Mrs. Hawes, of Maceo, spent several days of last week with her father Mr. Thompson, who is ill.

Special—Last week I sent the following items: "Mrs. Ethel Moorman went to Hardinsburg Thursday." "Richard Perkins, of Cloverport, spent Wednesday night with McQuiggins."

Through a mistake of the publisher one line was omitted and the two items were printed as one and read as follows: "Mrs. Ethel Moorman went to Hardinsburg, Thursday night with McQuiggins."

I am very sorry this happened but I'm sure it was a mistake and I'm equally sure the Editor will be glad to correct it in this issue of the News.

BIG SPRING

Miss Helen Miller, of Constantine, spent last week with her grandmother, Mrs. Taylor Norris and cousins, Misses Lena and Lillian Board.

J. L. Morris, J. V. Clarkson and Rev. Ivan Allen attended the Methodist Educational meeting at Elizabethtown, last week.

Mrs. Lilly Mae Scott, who has been in Louisville and Owensboro, since December, returned home last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Martin, of Louisville, spent last week here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Martin and her mother, Mrs. Lilly Mae Scott.

Mrs. C. B. Witt entertained Thursday evening with a Rook party for the young people.

Mrs. George Prather entertained Monday evening to a six o'clock dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Martin, of Louisville. Plates were laid for: Mr. and Mrs. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Springate, Mr. Ed Martin, Miss Leah Meador, Mesdames, Lilly Mae Scott and J. H. Meador.

Some of our citizens have forgotten there is a stock law and have turned their cows out to graze the streets and worry people.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Hill, near Salem church.

E. C. Martin went to Elizabethtown Saturday on business.

LOCUST HILL

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Butler and niece, Miss Ruth Butler were the guests of his father on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Butler and children, were the guests of his sister, Mrs. Hardin Butler, and Mr. Butler, Saturday night.

YELLOW LAKE

John Storms was the guest of his sister, Mrs. Con Mattingly, from church last Sunday.

Miss Vonnice Cannon was on the sick list a few days last week.

Rev. J. Odendahl went to Leitchfield, Sunday afternoon enroute to Louisville.

Paul Brite and Walter Storms motored to Hardinsburg, last Thursday.

Mrs. Liga Brite and daughter, Elizabeth, also Mrs. Edward Brite, Mrs. Willie Compton and little daughter, Tommie, were guests of Mrs. Jonas Butler, last Tuesday.

Friends here of Mrs. K. E. Rhodes, of Owensboro, are sorry to learn of her serious throat trouble.

Uncle Cliff Mattingly is spending a few days with his daughter, Mrs. Mary Joe Mattingly, near Kirk.

Frank Hinton and family and Lonnie Vanderver and family have rented their farms and moved to Illinois, during the cropping season.

Fred Rhodes, of Trotley, N. Dak., wrote home last week that they were having blizzards and mercury down to 15 below zero. Seems today a little of that breeze reaches here. Around a good fire, reading, or popping corn is a very pleasant pastime, while the cold wind bloweth outside.

Mr. and Mrs. Marsh Mercer, of McDaniels, entertained several of their friends for dinner last Sunday. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dudgeon, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Tucker, Mrs. Bettie Hayes, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tom Bradley, Joe Rhodes and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Compton.

Bob Weatherford, of Harned, was through here last week and bought several crops of tobacco.

Mr. Julian Storms went to Leitchfield, last Monday shopping.

Warehouse Area At Camp Zachary Taylor

Splendidly constructed, built upon concrete foundations, having the Southern Railway tracks on one side and a rock asphalt road on the other, these thirty-one warehouses would make an ideal nucleus for a co-operative warehousing system for the marketing of tobacco, grain and other Kentucky farm products.

Built upon heavy foundations, which have been subjected to the carrying of enormous loads, the warehouses would serve admirably for the storage of tobacco, hides, wool and other commodities which the farmer sells today at a low price because of the swollen market. Here the farmer could store his products with the knowledge that he had access to a ready market at the proper season in the railroad facilities and roads leading into Louisville.

A wonderful opportunity is presented here for the establishment of a loose leaf tobacco market in Louisville with these warehouses purchased at a low price to form the base of a warehouse system, either on a co-operative plan or on a straight money-making proposition.

Stress has been laid on the fact that a great deal of tobacco now being grown in the outer edge of Jefferson County and the adjoining counties, including those in Southern Indiana, must be hauled long distances to reach a loose leaf market, because no such market exists in Louisville, and the innumerable benefits to be gained by the farmer through the establishment of such a market here have been indicated.

Hope has been expressed that the recent meeting of the State Farm Bureau in Louisville may result in the development of a plan whereby these warehouses could be utilized for the services of the farmers, through their acquisition by an organization of men interested in farming, and it is hoped that such an organization will be formed prior to the sale of the Cantonment, which begins on April 25.

The warehouses are 60x108 feet, having the Southern Railway tracks on one side and a rock asphalt road on the other, while, with the city conveniences and splendid roads leading to every part of Northern and Central Kentucky, the buildings would furnish a most suitable base for the planned co-operative system. They are now available and can be purchased from the Government at prices that will be much less than the cost of erection would be today, and it is almost a certainty that the entire area will be purchased by some individual or organization that will convert them into useful channels of trade, rather than allow them to be wrecked and sold as salvaged lumber.

METHODISTS CONSOLIDATE DATE LOGAN COLLEGE AND JOHN LOCKE SCHOOL.

Louisville, Ky., April 14.—Through action today by the board of education of the Louisville Methodist conference, Logan college, Russellville, and what has been known as the John Locke school, will be brought under one administrative head and broadened in scope. The decision reached will be put into effect following the next annual conference. Logan college is the only Methodist school for girls in Kentucky.

John Locke school a training school for boys, will attain the rank of a junior college and will be known as the Morton-Elliott junior college. Dr. A. P. Lyon, president of Logan college, will become the administrative head of both institutions, each of which, however, will be under a dean. Prof. Richard A. Foster, head of the former John Locke school, has been called to the chair of English at Columbia university.

THE NIGHT BEFORE PAY DAY.

'Twas the night before pay-day,
And all through my jeans I
I was searching in vain
For the price of some beans.
But nothing was doing,
The milled edge had quit;
Not a penny was stirring
Not even a jilt.
Forward, turn forward,
Oh, Time, in thy flight!
Make it tomorrow
Just for tonight.

competition educates

You cannot dream yourself into leadership. You must develop through an ability to compete.

There is a kind of competition that materially improves a village, a town, or a city. It makes for better citizens, incites more cheerful and comfortable homes. Such is the aim of the Owensboro Merchants' and Manufacturer's Exposition that will be held in Owensboro April 21-22-23.

Here will be a competition in excellence commending itself to a discriminating community. Here will be an exhibit that will afford amusement, entertainment and education. The people of Owensboro invite the people of Western Kentucky to visit with them during this show of excellence in manufacturing, agriculture and merchandising.

This exposition will afford abundant proof of how well the manufacturer, the farmer, the merchant of this section competes with the master minds in industry, agriculture and merchandising.

They say: "It takes a smart, wise woman to keep appearances up and expenses down."

CLEANING UP

Going to clean up your back yard and get rid of all your old tin cans, ashes, and the stuff that has accumulated around your back door all winter aren't you?

This is the general Clean-Up Week all over the State of Kentucky. It is ordered by the State Fire Prevention department each year and it is a splendid plan for getting all the towns and cities in the State to cooperate in having this general clean-up in the Spring of the year. Not only is it done to prevent fire, but for sanitary reasons as well.

Mayor Barry has ordered Clean-Up days in Cloverport on Thursday and Friday of this week. The town will furnish teams to carry off all the rubbish.

So now if all the residents of Cloverport will do their part, and we are sure they will, in cooperating with the Mayor, we will have a spanking clean town by the end of the week.

But that isn't all. After we once get our town cleaned up let's keep it clean all through the summer.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE

Jesse M. Moward has a host of friends in Breckinridge county. He is known the county over as a good substantial man and farmer. Mr. Howard is spoken of as a candidate for County Judge on the Democratic ticket.

We believe Mr. Howard is qualified for the position of County Judge. He is a successful farmer, acquainted with the business of the county, and being a practical farmer he would apply his ideas of economy to the business of the county. He stands for good roads and knows the value of them and would apply his efforts along this line of improvement. He is a Democrat, but not a partizan, and a man who would not make the race if he had to resort to unfair means to get it.

Here is a chance now for the Democrats to put up a good man for County Judge if they want one.

One of the things that President Harding brought out in his first message to Congress which was good was his policy regarding Federal Aid for building highways. The President urges Congress to condition all Federal Aid for road-building on provision that the roads be kept up after they are constructed. Regarding federal appropriations for road building he said in part: "I know of nothing more shocking than the millions of public funds wasted in improved highways—wasted because there is no policy of maintenance. The neglect is not universal, but it is very near it. There is nothing the Congress can do more effectively to end this shocking waste than condition all Federal aid on provisions for maintenance."

Look at the picture on our front page. It is of a fine young man just as good as heroes and is true to every thing that goes to make a good citizen and a servant of the people. You know him and it goes without saying that most every man woman and child in Breckinridge county knows of him, if not personally. He is a candidate for high sheriff in the Republican Primary. He has made a good deputy and he will make just as good a sheriff. It looks now that he will not have any opposition in the primary and he ought not to have any. He deserves the endorsement and it is to be hoped that he will get the nomination without any fight.

Two of the most agreeable and entertaining gentlemen we have met in a long time were in Hardinsburg, Monday. They were Col. Jeff Adams, Superintendent of the Masonic Home and Col. David Jackson, Grand Secretary of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky. It is certainly a great pleasure and an inspiration to be in their presence.

Did you stop gardening and house-cleaning long enough to read all of the President's message?

Keep in mind the election of school trustees the first Saturday in May.

FARM AND STOCK

Tobacco was rolling into Hardinsburg, Monday. Beard Brothers were receiving at three warehouses. They are in the market for 2,000,000 pounds.

J. M. Howard sold Mike Ketzner, of Holt, a fine thoroughbred Short-horn heifer last week for $150. This sale was a direct result from Mr. Howard's advertisement in The

GOOD FARM FOR SALE

520 Acres With Stock, Feed and Tools

6 1-2 MILES OF CLOVERPORT

150 acres of good creek bottom land ready for cultivation, about 80 acres of new land just opened up which is slightly rolling, about 90 acres of rolling land which has been cleared some time, the remainder 200 acres are in woods, all of which could be cultivated if cleared except about 50 acres which is rough.

Most of all the land is under good fence; has enough timber for the up keep of the farm. There are about 45 acres in meadow, about 4 acres in alfalfa, about 100 acres in pasture.

Improvements consist of 3 good houses and 1 smaller house, 1 good stable 36x40, one good tobacco barn 32x40, one old barn, one barn pattern cut for large tobacco barn, one 4 acre apple orchard, 4 good springs, 1 good well at main residence.

450 bu. of corn, 4 tons of hay, 100 doz. bundles of oats, 4 good work mules, 4 good work horses, 8 milk cows, 7 yearling cattle, 5 two year old cattle, 31 head of sheep, 20 head of hogs, 1 self binder, 1 disc cultivator, 1 sulky plow, 3 two horse breaking plows, 3 two horse jumping shovel plows, 4 one horse single shovel plows, 1 two horse corn planter, 1 one horse corn planter, 1 mowing machine, 1 hay rake, 2 road wagons, 1 large section harrow, 1 small harrow, and other small tools such as hoes, axes, cross-cut saws and carpenter tools.

Three good tenants are under contract to farm on the halves and one more to give one-third. Immediate possession can be had by purchaser assuming landlord's contract with tenants.

Price on entire proposition is only $10,000.00. $2,000 cash is required and the remainder may be paid in 16 annual payments.

"MY OLD KY. HOME WEEK" MAY 8

Program is Planned For The Week's Celebration; Funds To Be Raised To Purchase The Home.

Every Kentuckian at home or abroad is to have an opportunity to contribute to the popular fund to purchase "My Old Kentucky Home" at Federal Home where Stephen C. Foster wrote the greatest State song in the world. "From pennies to pounds" every one may give as the heart dictates.

The estate of two hundred and thirty-six acres, the old colonial home with all its valuable antique furniture, relics and Jouett and Healy portraits is offered through the State Commission, for the sum of $50,000 a most reasonable price. Through private contributions the first payment has been made to hold the option.

It is planned to raise through contributions from the sons and daughters of Kentucky a total of $100,000; the amount above the purchase price to be used to transform the grounds into a park, restore the interior of the home and its furnishings, and then turn it over to the State to be conducted as a shrine which pilgrims and lovers of romance and the great traditions of Kentucky may flock to visit.

The Commission has arranged a campaign for the week beginning May 8 which will be known as "Old Kentucky Home Week." In order that it may be carried out in every town and county in the State, printed instructions, with suggested programs, are being prepared.

Sunday, May 8, will be called "Church Day," when all ministers will be requested to preach sermons on home with especial reference to the home life in Kentucky in its traditional and hopeful aspects. Sunday school exercises will be also suggested.

May 9, will be "School Children's Day." Prof. George Colvin, State Superintendent of Schools, and his associates will arrange for ceremonies, addresses and sketches by pupils.

May 10, will be "Women's Day," the plans for which will be arranged by the women's clubs of the State.

May 11, "Moving Picture Day," will be in the hands of the theatre managers to arrange for special performances.

May 12, will be "Old Kentucky Home Day" with special entertainments in every town and city arranged with reference to the song, other Foster melodies and addresses, calling for the best local talent.

Friday, May 13, is left open for later suggestion.

Saturday, May 14, will be "Foster Day," to close the week. This will be for street contributions.

Marvin H. Lewis, General Executive Chairman at Louisville, has the State organization in hand to help all localities with suggestions, literature, music and supplies.

Contributions may be sent to Old Kentucky Home Commission, Room 9, Board of Trade Building, Louisville, Ky.

Breckinridge News.

George N. Lyddan, of Webster, was in Hardinsburg, Saturday attending a meeting of the Directors of the Farm Bureau. Mr. Lyddan is a very enthusiastic member and sees great Breckinridge county from this B. results coming to the farmers in rear. He says every farmer in the county should join.

Carl Richardson was in Union Star last week visiting his mother.

Ginger Bandy went to Louisville, Saturday. Mr. Bandy has recovered his health and is as stout and healthy as he ever was.

The Hon. Crit Seaton is a prospective candidate for Magistrate of the Glen Dean district. Squire Alex Eskridge would like to have the position once more he says.

Rev. H. S. English, who has been pastor of the Baptist church at Garfield made his last trip over the branch last Saturday. He resigned his pastorate on account of his work at home. He will be missed by the members and many friends outside of the church. He was a faithful conscientious worker and never missed an appointment.

Bud Ashley, of Topeka, Kansas, writes home that his sixteen months old boy died very suddenly at his home a few days ago.

W. R. Moorman & Sons, Glen Dean, sold recently 5 Shorthorn bulls. The purchasers were Alvin Withers, Kirk; Jack Lyons, McQuady; Emmett Wells, Owensboro; W. H. Rhodes, Hartford and H. C. Barlow, McKinney, Texas.

W. R. Moorman & Son, have recently purchased the Dunk Powell farm of 140 acres for $2,000 adjoining their present farm. This gives them 1,300 acres of the finest land in Breckinridge county. They are farm builders and never let a piece of land go backwards that they have any thing to do with. Their purchase of the Moorman tract is already showing their handy work.

Lon Rhodes of Kirk, has planted 15 acres of corn. This reminds us that the late "Uncle" Billy Withers used to pride himself on coming to April court with all his corn planted and would take a week off attending court.

Mrs. Charles Lyons has sold her residence in McQuady to Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm O'Brien. Mrs. Lyons and Mrs. O'Brien were in Hardinsburg, Monday shopping.

A County Disgrace

The accompanying photograph shows a part of the well known "Patterson Hill," which lies between Cloverport and the Hancock county line, and which takes up half the distance of two miles. This is not just the "worst part," but it is only a section of the whole thing. Nor is this the only bad road in the county. If we were to make a picture of Breckinridge county from an airplane, flying at a height of ten thousand feet, we would find at least four roads equally as bad as this, leading into Cloverport alone, and many more in other parts of the county. And may I add these roads have never been any better than they are now.

Such roads as these are a disgrace to a county and a country. No country can prosper under these conditions. Breckinridge county can expect very little in the way of progress so long as it allows roads like these within its boundaries.

The road shown in the picture is traveled by more people than any other road in the county. Half of the people of Hancock county come over this road and do business in Cloverport, besides a large part of Breckinridge.

But the business in Cloverport is not what it would be if these roads were improved. Cloverport would be a greater shipping point, both by water and by rail. The merchants would do a greater business if the people could get to them. In fact all kinds of business would improve.

People of the county, will we allow ourselves and our fellow-citizens to travel roads like these? Don't we appreciate the trade of a neighbor county any more than to let a barrier like this lay between us and them?

If the Federal Highway, which is now in progress, is placed along the present surveyed route, the traffic on this road will not be lessened. The people of the two counties who travel this road, will have to come over it still to reach the Federal road. Again I say, will the people of the County stand in the way of their own progress by ignoring these conditions?

John K. Duke.

was the dinner guest of Mrs. Eliza Taylor and Mrs. Bettie Taylor, Monday. Miss Louise Taylor, of Louisville, was at home spending Sunday.

Kirby Dowell and Alf Hawkins, of Hardinsburg Route 2, who are farming together have 80 acres of corn ground broken. They report that a very short acreage of tobacco will be planted in their neighborhood this spring. The average per farmer will be about one to two acres.

In the 16th century the blades of table knives bore on one side the musical notes of the "grace before meat" and on the other side those of the "grace after meat."

BOWLING GREEN HAS NATURAL SEWER SYSTEM

Over Million Years Old And Only One In United States.

(By Charles E. Mace, in May Popular Mechanics Magazine.)

The only city in the United States boasting a sewer system in which all the "pipes" were laid by Mother Nature is Bowling Green, Ky. Although the prosperous little municipality has a population of 15,000 there is not a foot of man-made sewer pipe in any of the streets or alleys.

The explanation is that the city is built over a formation of oolitic white limestone which is a maze of connected crevices extending to a considerable depth below the surface; much the same formation as that of the famous Mammoth Cave just 30 miles distant. This limestone is said to be composed of the fossilized eggs of prehistoric marine animals. The "logs" of oil wells drilled in the western Kentucky fields, show that limestone of one kind or another is encountered as deep as drilling has ever yet been carried.

When a new residence is being built in the Bowling Green region, a "sink finder" is employed, who merely goes out in the back yard and digs about in the red surface soil, which is seldom more than 3 feet deep, until he locates a fissure. A garden hose is then placed in the crevice, and the water is allowed to run until it is free from obstructions. It is then approved by the city inspector, and the house has perfect sewer connection. No city has a more sanitary system. Chemists say the sewage would be purified in a very short distance by passing through the limestone. Seepage never comes to the surface, the explanation of geologists being that it flows through these natural passageways in the stone until it finally finds an outlet in the river bed.

An interesting character is found in "Uncle" Henry Jameson, an aged negro who has specialized in locating fissures and digging "sinks" for the past 25 years. When asked just how many he had dug, he laughed and said, "Lawdy, Boss, I reckon I couldn't count that many." "Uncle Henry uses the diving rod, or 'witch stick,' as he calls it, in locating the fissures, and declares he would never dig without first employing his forked peach-tree branch. The frequency with which his attempts are successful is amazing. Although Henry is 74 years of age, his services in this capacity are in such demand that the builders will not let him retire, and he has just signed a contract to locate sinks for 25 new residences now under construction in the city.

It is fortunate for Bowling Green that nature has provided this elaborate and efficient scheme. When one considers that the surface soil is not sufficiently deep in many places to bury the sewer pipe, that the expense of digging trenches in the usual way would be prohibitive.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

Congratulations are being sent to Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Young, of Providence, Ky., on the arrival of a daughter, Frances Louise, on Friday, April 15.

Mrs. Young, before her marriage, was Miss Eliza Taylor, daughter of Mrs. Alfred Taylor, of Hardinsburg, and a granddaughter of Mrs. Eliza Taylor.

The war seemed to set a new fashion in baby naming: "Haig Jones," "Beatty Smith," "Ypres Robinson" and "Dardasella Davis" were a few examples.

A LIFE WORTH LIVING

By McCready Sykes in Commerce
And Finance.

It seems a pity that the angel of death might not have passed by the beloved figure of John Burroughs and granted his wish to round out a hundred years. He was a young man when the civil war came upon his country. He tried to enlist, but failed to get into the army, and in order to be of some service he went to the Treasury Department, where they set him to watch the vaults. Till 1884 his formal vocation was that of a National Bank Examiner—a queer biographical item.

John Burroughs found in life a wonderful joy. He spoke a language wherein few of us are at home, and read familiarly in what to most of us is a sealed book. The print of an animal's foot in the snow, the call of an insect by night, the notes of a thousand birds, were to this philosopher of happiness a language wherein he was always at home.

Parents do well to open to their children the wonderful world of books and thus provide for all their lives the means of keen interest in life and resources to which they may always turn. But the book of nature is one in which most children hardly learn to read. Every now and then we get some fresh reminder of the existence of this great unexplored field close at our hand.

It was here that our grand old naturalist found his own never-ending joy. He did great service in opening this wonderland to his generation—most of all perhaps to the younger generation following him. Simple and almost child-like in the quiet serenity of his life, two characteristics stand out that will long mark his memory—the loveliness of his happy nature and that he found life so absorbingly interesting.

Parents who are bringing up their children on automobiles are dulling their eyes and ears to a world whereof they would be in no danger of being bored, to a life so interesting that like our old friend gone to his rest, they would pray for a hundred years of it.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Morrison and little daughter, Lalloma, of Sedalia, Mo., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hoffmans. From here they will go to Louisville, to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morrison and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Arnold.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy MacMillen, of Addison, were in Cloverport, Monday on business.

Mrs. Ernest Pate and sister, Mrs. Myron Moorman, and Mrs. Peyton Eskridge were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Hamilton, of Patesville, the last week-end.

HILL ITEMS

Saturday afternoon, April 16, the anniversary of Harry Hambleton, Jr.'s birthday was celebrated at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hambleton. About 22 boys and girls enjoyed the happy occasion. A fine luncheon was served after which a prize was given to Forrest Kinder for guessing the lucky number in a box of candy. Some boys would like for Harry and Robert Daugherty to have more anniversaries.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Satterfield entertained Dr. Williams during his last appointment in town. Both sermons preached at the Presbyterian church on Sunday were very much enjoyed. Rev. J. R. Randolph preached in the evening to an appreciative audience.

WHY CHURCHES
SHOULD BE BEAUTIFUL.

"What an unattractive place the average church is!" complains a preacher in Philadelphia, and the Pittsburgh Post, remarking that the statement contains a measure of truth which should receive careful consideration, observes that money is not ill-spent on beautifying our houses of worship. Though the church occupies a field different from that taken up by the movie-house and the theatre, it should be no less clean, attractive, and sanitary. In addition, "a church should give some regard to beauty, not only from the standpoint of making it a worthy temple to the Most High, but also from that of the value of esthetic surroundings as an aid to putting a congregation into a frame of mind to make the most of the spiritual truths given them in the services." It is against human nature to rise to its height amid dismal surroundings, and "it is but common sense that the temples erected to the worship of God should be fitting."

"To those who argue that it would be better if the money put into adornment of churches were given to the poor, it may be replied simply that while the Church is constantly mindful of its duty to the needy it also has a duty to maintain itself as an inspiring place of worship. The point is that the needs of both charity and the esthetic are to be met. Care for the poor and likewise keep the churches as nearly as possible to the ideal of temples of God.

"No beautiful church is erected in vain. Even to those who may not worship in it—who may see it merely in passing—it has the effect of an inspiring picture. It helps the cause of religion just as a fine government building gives a good impression of a nation or state. No tumble-down or musty building gives a good impression. Thus, while it is the words spoken in a church that count most, the value of impressive surroundings as an aid to the inspiration of the services should not be overlooked."

Women jurors brought good luck to the L. H. & St. L. R. R. Company last Tuesday when the jury in the Daviess Circuit Court returned a judgment for $3,195 in favor of the L. H. & St. L. in the action against the Owensboro City Railroad Company. The controversy was over the maintenance of railroad and street car crossing.

Four women served on the jury.

The Cloverport cemetery committee, by its constant efforts, is making vast improvements in beautifying the cemetery. The committee has employed three men for the last two weeks in filling those graves that needed it, seeded and rolled them, the lawn and driveways are getting their share of attention. The committee is handicapped by insufficient funds, and is now sending out letters requesting annual subscriptions from the lot owners.

CHINESE WORK TO OFFSET FAMINE

Intensive Relief Efforts Are in Progress to Help Their Own People.

Pekin, April 4.—Never have the Chinese people and their Government made greater efforts to meet a national disaster than they are now making to feed the hungry of the famine stricken districts, say observers here.

When relief measures began President Hsu Hsih-chang gave the first big impetus to Chinese relief measures with a contribution of $100,000 and he has given $300,000 to the national relief drive which has raised several hundred thousand dollars. The President's wife is a contributor to many funds.

Chinese students and numerous organizations of farmers, business men or workers in various industries have contributed their efforts to aid this drive.

Chinese civil employees are giving 20 per cent. of their salaries. Taxes on railway tickets yield a large sum. The Government is now collecting monthly, all devoted to famine relief. $750,000 monthly by means of a surtax.

Chinese provincial and city governments in the region south of the famine area are providing work for the starving.

The central Government is building a highway 80 miles long in Shantung and all victims in that district are given employment.

Towns and villages in every part of Manchuria have organized relief committees, and a fund of $200,000 has been raised by the residents. An entire district in the famine area has been taken over by the Manchurians for care until the next harvest.

A loan of $4,000,000 for relief work has been floated by four Chinese banks. Merchants in Shanghai raised nearly $2,000,000 and Chinese outside of the country have sent thousands of contributions. One rich Chinese merchant is the Straits Settlement has sent more than $1,000,000. The Sheng family of Shanghai has already given $500,000. A large land owner in the famine district has mortgaged his entire property and borrowed all he can on notes, thus keeping alive a whole township.

The Chinese Government is guaranteeing free transportation of supplies and relief workers, with priority for all grain shipments for the famine sufferers.

"Tag days" in this city, Hankow, Changhai, Canton, Tientsin and Peking have produced funds. In Peking Superintendent of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, an inspiration to be in their presence.

SETTLEMENT GIRL FINDS ODD IDEAS ON BABY'S DIET

The Very Modern Girl has a friend who was once a debutante, but who has now taken seriously to settlement work. Three days a week she trudges cheerfully up and down dirty tenement stairs and into evil smelling rooms to teach alien mothers how to feed their families and care for their babies. She has been especially interested in 14-month-old Hilda Slarsky, who still looks pale and peaked, although her mother following instructions, bundles her up and stations her carriage in the out door air for the greater part of the day.

"What do you give her to eat?" asked the worker on her last visit to the tenement.

"Like you told me, lots of milk," answered the mother laconically, "but she won't never get fat on just milk."

"Well, she's big enough to have other things," said the visitor, "baked potato and a coddled egg, for instance. Do you know how to coddle an egg?" And she proceeded to give a detailed but lucid description of the correct way to coddle an egg. "And now," she ended cheerfully, "You could do that, couldn't you?"

"Sure," replied Mrs. Sharsky, without enthusiasm.

"And do you think the baby would take it?" asked the instructor.

"I guess," responded the mother, with a characteristic shoulder shrug. "Why for shouldn't she? She takes her sauer kraut and sausage fine."—New York Evening Sun.

COVINGTON WOMAN HIGHLY ELATED

Says a Number of Her Friends Took Tanlac After Seeing Wonderful Good It Did Her.

"If I could talk to everybody suffering as I suffered I'd certainly tell them to take Tanlac for it has relieved me of troubles that made life miserable for six long years," said Mrs. Margaret Hutchens, of 611 Bakewell street, Covington, Ky.

"About six years ago my back, limbs and joints got to hurting me, and I gradually got worse until I had to use a stick in getting about the house. Nearly two years ago my stomach became disordered and whatever I ate pained me for hours and much of the time I was badly bloated. The pains in my back got so bad I could hardly stoop in doing my housework and I just suffered all the time. Finally I got so weak and nervous and had such bad dizzy spells I had to give up my housework altogether.

"At night I got no sound sleep and frequently felt worse in the morning than when I went to bed. I suffered tortures from cramps and pains all over my body and rapidly went down hill. I was so bad off I feared I'd never be well again.

"As I had tried so many things without getting any relief my husband insisted I should try Tanlac. By the time I had finished my second bottle I was fast getting better. I have just finished my tenth bottle and have no more aches and pains and am no longer troubled in any way. I am so delighted with Tanlac I've put my little girl to using it as a tonic and persuaded a number of my neighbors to take it."

BISHOP LAWRENCE OPPOSES MIXING OF MINISTRY AND BUSINESS

Boston, April 13.—Bishop William Lawrence in his annual address to the Massachusetts diocesan convention of the Episcopal church, today deplored the number of clergymen who were mixing business with holy orders to eke out a living. Their number was startling he said and the condition was one which he regarded as symptomatic of a let down in standards of high devotion industry, self sacrifice and efficiency.

The danger of a commercialized ministry, the bishop said, was due in part to small salaries.

"I believe," he declared, "that unless there is a bracing up of public sentiment, respect for holy orders will decline both in the church and in the business world."

LOUISVILLE PRESBYTERY CLOSED WEDNESDAY; CONDEMN MODERN DANCE.

Louisville, Ky., April 13.—Condemnation of the modern dance as "moral peril" was expressed by the Rev. D. P. B. Hill in his address to the Louisville Presbytery was unanimously adopted as the official sentiment of the body at the concluded meeting today. The resolution was introduced by the Rev. J. V. Logan, of the Crescent Hill Presbyterian church, and passed after a few minutes of commendatory discussion. The presbytery will meet in Glasgow in October.

VEGETABLES IN HOME GARDEN

All Kinds Should Be Planted; Food Value of Vegetables is Necessary to One's Diet.

The old adage, "an apple a day keeps the doctor away," might quite as well have read "a carrot or an onion a day," and probably the result would be about the same as regards reducing the doctor's bill. Vegetables of all kinds are necessary in the diet, but particularly valuable are those available in the spring and summer, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Value of Vegetables in Diet.
Without going into definite figures it may be stated that the food value of vegetables such as beans, peas, potatoes, sweet corn, beets, and carrots, is very high. When considered from the standpoint of the food value of the crop that may be produced on a given area of land, beans, beets, and carrots are ahead of almost any other garden crop. One-tenth acre planted entirely to carrots will yield about a ton and in energy this would be equal to about 370 pounds of average beef. One-tenth acre of beets would also yield about a ton and be equal to 380 pounds of average beef. One-tenth acre of lima beans would yield about 120 pounds of dry beans, equal to about 220 pounds of beef.

As sources of mineral matters and proteins needed by the body, vegetables are much more valuable than many people realize. Also they supply roughage, which is believed to keep the body in good working order. In the course of nature, human beings as well as some animals seem to have so developed that they need a certain amount of roughage, which is best supplied by the coarser vegetable foods. During recent years there has been a growing tendency to reduce the roughage in cereals and some other foods, and in order to offset this, an extra effort should be made to supply plenty of vegetables and fruits. In addition, fresh vegetables are among the best sources of what, for lack of a better name have been called vitamins.

Nobody has ever been able to stand a vitamin up by itself, or a group of them by themselves, so that we could look at them, but it is known that they are present just the same because of the action that they have upon the human body.

Eat More Vegetables.
Too much can not be said in favor of a larger proportion of vegetables in the diet of the American people. The English are considered a nation of meat eaters, but it has been shown that Americans eat more meat per capita than do the English. A certain amount of meat in the diet is highly desirable, but this should always be balanced by a sufficient supply of vegetables.

One of the reasons that many people have to a great extent cut vegetables from their diet is that they have been unable to get fresh vegetables and did not relish stale ones. The individual home vegetable garden planted either in the backyard, or a convenient piece of land, not only solves the problem of supplying the family with vegetables at low cost and in abundance, but guarantees their freshness.

25,000 BOYS TO RE-FOREST A STATE

Louisiana Is Making Appeal For Boys to Replant 4,000,000 Acres.

The State of Louisiana has called upon its boys to replant 4,000,000 of the 12,000,000 acres which have been denuded of forests, says Harry H. Dunn in an illustrated article in the May Popular Mechanics Magazine. Reforestation clubs have been established by the state department of conservation and, by the end of 1921, it is expected that 25,000 boys will be enrolled.

The call is being sent to farmers sons, though all boys, between the ages of 10 to 18 years are invited to join. A large lumbering corporation of the state has offered prizes totaling $500 annually.

It is through the "woodlot," the vacant corner, the bit of uncultivated deforested land on the farm, and the farm boy's familiarity with it, that the state hopes to lay the foundation for the restoration of Louisiana's forests. The state has placed a forester, who formerly was connected with the public schools, and thus is familiar with the American boy, and methods of teaching him, in charge of this reforestation plan, and has issued 5,000 copies of a bulletin describing in simple language the trees best adapted to the lands in various sections of the state; how to tell the age of standing trees; how to plant, care for and protect natural forests, as well as how to dispose of the products of these forests with the best financial results.

OPINION OF THE MAN WHO DOES NOT ADVERTISE.

The man who does not advertise because his grandfather did not ought to wear knee breeches and quene.

The man who does not advertise because it costs money, should quit paying rent for the same reason.

The man who does not advertise because he tried it and failed, should throw away his cigar because the light went out.

The man who does not advertise because he doesn't know how himself ought to stop eating because he can't cook.

The man who does not advertise because somebody said it did not pay ought not to believe that the world is round because the ancients said it was flat.

CAMP ZACHARY TAYLOR

AT ABSOLUTE AUCTION

Beginning Monday, April 25, 1921, at 10 a. m.

And continuing day by day until all land, buildings and equipment have been sold. The properties to be disposed of at this sale, represent an outlay on the part of the Government of

Ten Millions of Dollars

All of which will be sold, in units, to suit purchasers at
The Greatest Auction Sale in History

Sectional view of one of the areas at Camp Zachary Taylor showing character of buildings to be sold.

This Army Camp comprises 2,000 acres of valuable land, adjoining the city of Louisville, together with 2,000 buildings of various sizes, and a vast amount of equipment, such as boilers, plumbers' supplies, stoves, hot water heaters, radiators, electrical equipment, motors, heating and refrigerating plants, etc.

THE BUILDING PROBLEM

For years building has been at a practical standstill. The high cost of material, especially lumber, and the scarcity of labor have compelled a stoppage in the erection of homes, storehouses, barns, etc. That time has now passed. Workmen have been released by the hundreds of thousands and Camp Zachary Taylor will release lumber and equipment. 68,000,000 feet of yellow pine will be disposed of at this sale and at such prices as bidders see fit to pay. Come to this greatest of bargain sales and buy what you want at your own figures. Join with your neighbors in making up car lots to save freight rates. A vast number of cedar, white oak, chestnut and creosoted fence posts, water troughs and grain bins will interest every farmer. There are miles of woven wire hog-tight fencing. Two grain elevators, completely equipped with motors, conveyors and chutes.

OUR GUARANTEE

This is an absolute sale. You win or you lose on April 25th. We sell no one privately, but do an exclusive auction business. No set price, no reservation, no by-bidding, no private sale. This has been our motto for the twelve years we have been in business, during which time we have operated from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, and have never failed or refused to sell a single piece of land, or property of any kind, after it was placed under the hammer. You make the price. The Government makes the deed. That's all

A SPEAKS; ALLEGES FALSE PROPAGAND THE FARMER BEING COMBINED AGAINST BY LARGE INTERESTS

rural Dept. K. S. U. Corrects Prof. T. R. Bryant, of Agricul
the False Statement; Definite Plan Made for Every Co. in the State to Have Pure Bred Live Stock.

Insidious propaganda alleging that the farmer is being combined against by large interests of the country was charged by Prof. T. R. Bryant, Asst. Director of The Kentucky University College of Agriculture, in an address to farmers and breeders at the Louisville Livestock Exchange, Monday noon. Prof. Bryant warned the farmers against such reports, defining their menace, and urged the farmers to awaken to the need for better bred livestock as a move to maintain their independence.

Farmers also were told that they must take their losses as business men and build for the future on a sound economic basis by abolishing waste. The complete abolition of the scrub sire was urged as the first step with the principle that in the future the ownership of scrub stock would be a badge of inefficiency.

Prof. Bryant's address was the second noon-day talk in the series planned by the College of Agriculture in support of the Farmers' Better Sire Sale, to be held June 2nd, under the direction of The Kentucky Pure Bred Livestock Association and The Louisville Exchange at the Bourbon Stock Yards.

The Idea That Prevails.

"I find this idea prevalent that some interests are combined against the farmer," said Prof. Bryant. "One hears it said that the fertilizer people are down on the farmer and that the implement people and so on are trying to gouge the farmer. The term 'middle man' is used and some farmers feel that it is the common enemy, but if one stops to think and reflect, we will find that no one is down on the farmer. It is not to their interests to see the farmer put out of business.

"The farmers have in a good many instances the idea that every one with whom they deal is an enemy. This must be overcome. What we could get at is to learn how to adjust things and to get them on an economic basis. The world is not going to tolerate paying more for an article because it was produced in an extravagant way. The cost of production must be cut down, or the final selling price will be prohibitive.

In the Blue Grass Section.

As an illustration take an outfit I saw near Lexington the other day in a field; there were nine mules, nine plows, six negroes and six white men. Now what do you think that corn is going to cost on the market, counting the cost of its production.

It also costs more to produce these poor animals I saw in the stockyards today than it would to produce a pure bred animal. It is to the interests of the stockyards, the livestock buyers, as well as to all who wear clothes and eat to see that better methods of production are practiced. The first thing is to get better sires, better beef bulls.

We are going into every county where livestock can be produced to sell a plan whereby the farmer can produce better stock than ever before.

Outlined Six Plans.

Prof. Bryant then outlined six plans that had been adopted to promote the sale of pure bred bulls and to insure their fullest distribution over the state, adding that the movement had the support of all the bankers, business men and the general public in all of the agricultural sections. He called attention to the purchase of several pure bred bulls by the business men of London, Ky., at their expense for use in the country as a purely business investment.

Prof. Bryant then quoted the following letter sent to all county agents in support of the movement and outlining their field campaign:

Letter Sent To County Agents.

Plan 1. Induce three or four farmers in the same neighborhood to sell their scrub bulls locally or by shipment to Louisville, with the understanding that the combined proceeds are to be applied to the purchase of a pure-bred bull.

Plan 2. A group of three or four farmers who have no bulls at all may be gotten together for the specific purpose of purchasing a bull.

Plan 3. One of your banks can probably be induced to purchase a bull and place the same in the hands of a reliable farmer who will keep him for his service and who will agree to allow patrons of the bank to breed their cows to the bull upon notification from the bank to the effect that the man owning the cow or cows to be bred is a patron of the bank. In this case the bull would have to be moved from one part of the county to another. This plan may be altered by having the bank purchase a good bull as a business proposition and charge a fee of $2.00.

Plan 4. One of your banks can probably be induced to purchase a bull to be given away at a drawing contest July 4th. The drawing will be by numbered tickets issued with each time deposit in their bank between now and July 4th.

Plan 5. An implement house might be induced to take up virtually the same plan as the bank except that a patron be given a ticket for each purchase of $1.00 worth of goods.

Plan 6. This plan to locate individual farmers who will agree to purchase bulls out right. This is perhaps the best plan.

From all indications we are led to believe that the bulls are likely to sell at abnormally low prices at the sale June 2nd. The breeders consigning to this sale are approaching the proposition with very great misgivings, as they are afraid that they are being taken to a position where they will have to practically give away some valuable bulls. We should be exceedingly sorry for this to happen, but if any of our breeders will have to sell their pure bred bulls at a sacrifice price, I would rather the farmers of Kentucky get bargains than anyone else. From every standpoint including the conditions in your own county and also the encouragement of our breeders, I am hoping that the movement will be at least a reasonable success.

EGGS IN TOMATO SAUCE

IS A GOOD SUPPER DISH
Eggs are at their cheapest now, and new and appetizing ways of preparing them add variety to the menu. Here is a recipe recommended by the Experimental Kitchen of the United States Department of Agriculture.

2 cups tomato pulp and juice (put through a sieve, 2 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons flour, 1-2 teaspoon celery salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1 1-2 teaspoon salt.

Make a sauce of the ingredients. Put one-half of the sauce in a baking dish, break six eggs, one at a time, into a saucer and slide each egg into the sauce, taking care not to break the yolk. Cover with the remaining sauce and sprinkle 3 tablespoons of grated cheese over the top. Put in the oven and bake until the eggs are set. Serve hot on toasted bread or with boiled rice.

OLDEST CATHOLIC PRIEST

IN WORLD DIED APRIL 13.
St. Boniface, Manitoba, April 13.—The Rev. Father Damase Dandurand, order of Mary Immaculate, died here today at the age of 109. He was said to be the oldest Catholic priest in the world. He was born on March 23, 1819 in the Village of La Prairie, Quebec, of French parentage.

THE DEBT OF HONOR

Recalling America's Entrance in World War, April 6, 1917.

Four years ago this day the United States went to war by vote of Congress. Anticipating the declaration, young men had been thronging the recruiting offices for weeks previous, asking for a chance to wear their country's uniform. Soon afterward the Selective Service act was passed, which put all young men at the disposal of the Government.

Boys in khaki and in Navy blue were heroes everywhere. As they marched away from home the crowds mingled tears and cheers with protestations that soldiers and sailors, returned from the shadow of death, would have their country at their feet eager to make all right for them.

Most of the heroes of four years ago are back in their old routine, struggling along in the same old ways. But many thousands of them are buried where they fell on the battlefields of France, and thousands more, maimed, broken, poisoned, are in American hospitals—forgotten.

It is the shame of America that faith is not kept with its heroes who still suffer from the effects of the world's holocaust of youth.

More than half a century ago President Lincoln, in his second inaugural, declared it the public duty "to care him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan." The present debt of honor is the same as it was at the end of the Civil War. For the good name of the Nation it must be paid in full.—Boston Globe.

MAN LIVES TO BE 103 AND LIKES IT—BUT HAS NEVER MARRIED

Rome, April 7.—Count Greppi, the oldest person of aristocratic birth in the world, celebrated his 103rd birthday today. He has been ill with pneumonia, which, it was feared a few days ago, would prove fatal, but he is now very much better. Until he was taken ill a fortnight ago he lived the life of a society man, going to the theatre, to dances and receptions.

"Life is so beautiful I wish it would last forever," said the gay old Count to The World correspondent. "You ask what is the secret of my longevity. I never am in a hurry; I never run. I never ride and I always walk. But, above all, I never married."—New York World.

MONEY BORROWED TO PAY FAYETTE TEACHERS

Lexington, Ky., April 13.—The County Board of Education has arranged with a local bank to borrow approximately $4,000 to cover salaries and expenses of operation until the end of the school term.

KENTUCKIANS PAID OVER SEVEN MILLION IN TAXES TO U. S. GOV'T.

Kentuckians paid $6,997,131.32 in income tax to Collector of Internal Revenue Elwood Hamilton during the month of March, and a total of $7,237,851.59 in taxes was paid during the month, according to a recapitulation of the month's collections. This is a falling off in total tax collected of $1,606,286.61 when compared with March 1920. There is, however, an increase of $261,032.06 over March last year in the amount of income tax collected.

The decrease in the total amount collected in March this year from the amount collected in March 1920, is attributed largely to the refusal to permit whisky to be withdrawn from warehouses. In March 1920, whiskey valued at $824,000 was withdrawn, while in the March just passed only $84,000 worth of liquor was removed. Another reason for the decrease is said to be the falling off in excise taxes.—Louisville Post.

A RAILROAD MAN WHO KNOWS.

A section foreman on a railroad in Virginia has written as follows to the Roanoke Times:
"I am a union man of good standing and common sense teaches me if the railroad cut wages it will be for the interest of the majority of the working people. I have ten section men and only working three or four or them; the other six haven't anything to do. If the railroad companies cut wages they will work every man, and I do love to see my fellow man and his little children have just as much of this world's goods as I have, and I am willing for my wages to be cut if it will help some one else that needs help.

"I don't think it is right for a few men to lap up everything and the rest to go hungry, and I don't think it is right for my union to try and hold up wages just to accommodate a few people. Cut wages and let everybody work. This will be acceptable and approved by God. William Parnett, Section Foreman, Cambria, Va., March 13."

Here is a man who understands now what every railroad employee must realize sooner or later. When the railroad men take this section foreman's view they will be doing well by themselves. Lower wages, lower freight rates, more business less unemployment—such is the inevitable chain of events.

Not—and if you have a Sharples Suction-feed Separator you don't have to, for it skims equally clean whatever speed you turn. But with every other separator you must turn the crank at just exactly the speed stamped on it, or you will lose cream—every time! The wonderful Sharples Suction-feed varies the milk feed in direct proportion to the separating force—never more milk in the bowl than it can perfectly separate. All other separators have a fixed milk feed. Thus when turned below speed much of the milk runs out without being perfectly separated, and some gets into the cream, making it thin and uneven. Thousands of actual tests have proven that 19 out of 20 persons do turn too slow most of the time, and that everybody turns too slow some of the time. Get a

SHARPLES Famous Suction-Feed "Skims clean at any Speed" SEPARATOR

the only separator that:

- skims clean at widely varying speeds
- gives the same thickness cream regardless of speed
- skims your milk quicker when you turn faster
- has only one piece in bowl—no discs, easy to clean
- has knee-low supply tank and once-a-month oiling

Sharples is positive insurance against carelessness and its consequent cream waste, because it skims clean at any speed. A speed indicator, which rings a bell when you turn an old-style fixed-feed separator below speed, is really an acknowledgment of the vast superiority of Sharples, which automatically prevents losses from irregular turning instead of simply announcing them. Call at my store and I will be glad to demonstrate to you this and the other superior features of the Sharples.

SKIRT LENGTHS CAUSING PALPITATION OF HEART

England and France Determine Length of Skirts But America is Left Groping in Air.

"The League of Nations and the next move of the Bolsheviks may be of interest to some people," says the New York Herald, "but the thing that is causing wholesale palpitation of the heart among dressmakers of England, France and the United States is the length of the skirt. This great issue has not become an international three-cornered problem, with England already having decided upon a decorous dropping of this part of feminine apparel to the shoetops, and France has decided to continue the short skirts."

The decisions of the French and English fashion arbiters leave the United States groping in the air, unable to decide which to follow. The long skirt has been definitely classified principally by those who have excellent reasons for wearing short ones, as very decorous but very dowdy, while the wearers of the long skirts call the short one indecent and brazen. Dressmakers declare the question has not yet been settled so far as the United States is concerned, although a walk up Fifth avenue recently revealed skirts of almost any length, from those that almost sweep the ground to those that barely sweep the knee.

Charles Kurzman of Fifth avenue, one of the foremost American authorities on fashions, said ten inches from the ground is the skirt length adopted by the really nice French women.

"The French woman of recognized social standing never wore skirts above her shoe tops," said Mr. Kurzman.

But even this does not settle it, because some women wear higher shoes than others. Mr. Kurzman says the reason English women have virtually adopted eight inches from the ground as the proper length of the skirt is because they are not constructed to make an exposure of calf and ankle either becoming or advantageous, while almost all French and American women are. Mr. Kurzman and all of the other American authorities, however, express the opinion the American Women will continue to do as she has been doing, which is to make good taste and becomingness her guiding principle in dress. If she looks well in short skirts she will wear them; if she looks best in long skirts she will wear long ones.

RESOLUTIONS

On the death of Miss Sarah Irene Taul.

Whereas, an all powerful and all wise God in his wisdom has seen fit to take from us another one of our beloved members, Miss Sarah Irene Taul, who was just in the prime and strength of womanhood, she being only twenty-four years of age when called from this earth March 29th, 1921.

We do not understand this act of Divine Providence, yet we bow in humble submission to the will of Him who doeth all things well, therefore be it.

Resolved, that while the Church and Sunday school have lost a faithful member, one who was always ready and willing to do her part in so far as circumstances would permit during her long and lingering illness, the father a devoted daughter, yet we realize what to us is a loss, is to her a gain, and we are reconciled to know that she is now with the Father, free from all pain and suffering.

Further Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be printed in The Breckinridge News, a copy sent to the father, and also recorded in the minutes on the church book.

MISS MARGARET SUTTON ONE OF WINNERS IN A DEBATING CONTEST.

The affirmative side, including Misses Virginia Clements, Helen Gillette and Margaret Sutton, won in the debate Monday afternoon on the subject for the state-wide debate to be held at Lexington, May 7, over the Owls, who had the negative, including David Brodie, Raphael Smith and Max Baker. The three representatives to meet the John Lock Training school from Elkton at Owensboro, April 25, will be Misses Virginia Clements and Margaret Sutton, and Max Baker. The winners in this debate will meet the winning team in the Marion-Madisonville contest for the honor of representing this district at Lexington. The judges Monday were Miss Willa May Stallings, Miss Ada Schaeffer and Mr. A. W. Brown—Owensboro Messenger.

Miss Sutton is well known in Cloverport, where she resided before going to Owensboro, and frequently visits here.

FORMER BRECKINRIDGE COUNTY GIRL MARRIED IN WASHINGTON, D. C.

Announcement of the marriage of a former Breckinridge county girl, Miss Arline Ross, of Mattoon, Ill., to Mr. Robert G. Dize, of Keyser, West Va., has been received here. The wedding took place in Washington, D. C. on February 14, 1921.

Mrs. Dize is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Ross, of Mattoon, Ill., and a niece of Mrs. V. G. Babbage, of this city. She had, for several years prior to her marriage held a government position in Washington. Mr. Dize is a machanic in the employ of the B. & O. railroad.

WORD "FAILURE" NOT IN BILLY SUNDAY'S CATEGORY

Cites Notable Cases of P. T. Barnum, Helen Keller and John Boldt.

Cincinnati, O.—The word failure is not in the category of the renowned Billy Sunday, ex-ballplayer evangelist, who has taken this city by storm with his revival. To support his contention that failure is out of the question, he cited some notable cases, including that P. T. Barnum, famous showman, who tried fourteen times before he hit upon the circus idea.

"P. T. Barnum failed at fourteen different callings before he found out he was a natural born showman. Goldsmith failed as a physician—who else could have written 'The Deserter's Village'? Oliver Cromwell was a farmer when he was 40 years old. Gen. Grant was tanning hides in Galena, Ill., when he was 35. D. L. Moody, was selling boots and shoes in Boston when he was 25.

"Many of you start at thirdbase. The run doesn't count. No, sir. You are off-side; play the game of life unfairly. If your pockets are empty fill your hearts full of ambitions and go to it! Tell yourself what everybody knows—you're a quitter.

Helen Keller's Case.
"Helen Keller! I preached in Boston one night and they said, 'Helen Keller is on the stage; she'd like to shake hands with you.' I looked into her face—Helen Keller, blind, deaf, dumb, since a baby—she's got a clothes basket full of diplomas. With her example to shame you on, stop knocking and go to climbing in the world. Many a young fellow didn't know whether God wanted him to become an auctioneer or a college professor, but he has been fortunate enough to be kept out of the poor-house because he was lucky enough to marry a girl that has been brave and strong and willing enough to bend over the washtub to earn money enough to pay the house rent while he loafed around a stale beer joint, talked politics, argued religion, held forth on the principles of life and settled sociological questions.

"Study your capabilities. Somebody said to a boy, 'Kid, what are you going to do when you are a man?'"

"He said, 'I guess I'll be an electrician.'"

"The man said, 'Why?'"

"He said, 'Because I like to monkey with door bells.'"

"That was pretty good! If God wants you to be an iron cog wheel in a machine, the sooner you stop trying to be a searchlight and a whistle and be the cog wheel, the better you will be and the better the machine will work and the better the world will be.

A Nifty Comparison.
"It is as impossible for some young men and women to succeed the way they are going as it would be for a tom-cat to teach or play the organ at the Audubon Society. It's as impossible to make a silk purse out of a sow's ear today as it was in the days of Solomon.

"Oh they might have towered up like church steeples if they only had some ambition in order to win out in the world. Why, my friend, the late proprietor of the Waldorf-Astoria, John Boldt, he started on $2 a week—started on $2 a week."

WATERLOO BOY The Original Kerosene Tractor

In offering to you the Waterloo Boy, the Original Kerosene Burning Tractor, we believe we have selected the most practical, economical and dependable farm tractor on the market.

Points of Merit on Which Our Judgment Is Based:

FAST PERFORMANCE.. The Waterloo Boy has been a success on farms for five years. In no way is it an experiment.

ECONOMICAL.. It is a three plow tractor—most economical and practical size to use—burns kerosene perfectly without destroying lubricating oil. Its special, patented inbuilt manifold converts every drop of kerosene into pure gas—cylinders are not carbonized—spark plugs are not fouled. The perfect burning of kerosene saves the owner of the Waterloo Boy many dollars every year in cost of fuel and care of motor.

POWERFUL.. The two cylinders, with big bore and long stroke, furnish a guaranteed power of 12 H. P. at the draw bar and 25 H. P. at the belt, with ample reserve for emergencies. The Waterloo Boy pulls three plows under almost any field condition. Hyatt roller bearings at all important bearing points conserve full power. Weight of the tractor is sufficient to insure good traction for drive wheels.

SIMPLE.. Every part is easy to get at and easy to adjust or repair. It doesn't require a tractor expert to keep the Waterloo Boy in good working order. The crank case cover, the inspection plate, the upper half of gear case can all be removed for the purpose of inspection or repair—the operator can work from a standing position.

DURABLE.. Its heat-treated steel cut gears; its force and sight feed oiling system; its 11 sets of Hyatt Roller bearings at all important bearing points and its simple, powerful two-cylinder motor combined with uniformly high grade construction throughout, result in a tractor that has given and will give many years of dependable and economical service.

FOR ALL FARM WORK.. You can depend upon the Waterloo Boy in all farm power work; up to its high rated capacity. It is just as satisfactory in operating belt machines—threshers; shellers, ensilage cutters, hay balers, etc.—as it is in pulling tractor implements of all kinds.

We Want You to See the Waterloo Boy—Come In the Next Time You Are in Town
